

News 14

Young, socially excluded and in conflict with their lives... who are NEET

The term NEET is used to describe young people who are not engaged in any form of employment, education or training. The term has come into the policy debate in recent years due to disproportionate impact of the recession on young people (under 30 years old). The unemployment rate for those under thirty is nearly double the average rate.

(source: flickr.com)

Our project is dedicated to NEET youth - we want to support them by providing tools to develop their skills and build their self-confidence.

Find more about our target group in "From NEET to Unknown: who is responsible for young people not in education, employment or training" article, by Liam Wrigley!