Citizens In Power (CIP) is an independent non-profit, non-governmental organization who responds to needs of young people through their involvement in civic life.

CIP aims to explore the development of different ramifications of entrepreneurship, education and democratic dialogue in Cyprus and abroad. To achieve those targets CIP has established an on-going collaboration with the majority of Cypriot leading universities, NGOs and research organizations in Cyprus, especially for the development of innovative projects and international trainings or seminars as well as for the deployment of pedagogical educational material, by primarily using web platforms and other technological innovations.

Simultaneously, CIP retains a valuable network of professional trainers and educational experts experienced with both formal and non-formal education. This network is considered competent to contribute to the implementation of activities, related to the initiatives of the organization and its partners.
