C3 - short staff mobility for training aim - day 3

Hard work, cooperation and practice. These are three out of many positive features that can describe the third day of our meeting in Larnaca.

The first part of the day was dedicated to presentation of the first Intellectual Output of the project. Although the output was already completed, there was a space for participants' suggestions for its improvement. After a short break, the second Intellectual Output of the project was presented. And here again participants had a possibility to make some suggestions. Afterwards, participants discussed the work that has been already done regarding the Intellectual Output 4.

Time after lunch was spent on testing and developing Intellectual Output 3 - which is the board game. Conclusions and some extra information was gathered and will be used in later processes of the game creation.
